SMITH & HERRING

Local Items.

Travel on the trains was never so light, and not one passenger train in ten is paying expenses.

Three inches of ice on the ponds has furnished splendid opportunity for filling the houses, many of which have been chock full.

Frozen Pipes.

Quite a number of our citizens were greatly inconvenienced by the freezing weather, pipes in many residences being frozen. In many instances the pipes burst and did much damage before the flow of water could be checked.

Business Change.

Mr S D Turner has bought the meat market formerly conducted by Mr Pepples, corner Public Square and Lexington street. "Dee" understands the business and will run a strictly up-to-date market. He will add a stock of groceries, carrying everything in this line.

Six More Weeks.

The ground hog saw his shadow Sunday, as the sun shone brightly all day, notwithstanding the fact that the weather was as cold as the average pretty girl's heart. Mr G. Hog, according to history, will remain in his den for six weeks more, as the weather will not moderate during that time.

Anniversary Services.

Danville Advocate:—There was an all-day observance of the Twenty-Eighth Anniversary of the Christian Endeavor yesterday at the Christian Church. The Rev F M Tindler, of Lancaster, conducted the services, which were very impressive and instructive.

Capt. Hogan Remains Ill.
We regret to note the continued illness of our good friend, Capt W J Hogan, at his home in Bryantsville. He was critically ill for a time, but is improved at this writing. No man in the county has more friends than the Captain, and many are the wishes that he will soon be restored to perfect health.

Mr Gibbons' Big Ad.

We call attention to the large advertisement on another page of Mr A E Gibbons, of Danville. He has one of the largest and most complete houses in Kentucky and can furnish anything you want in his line. He is a gentleman, every inch, and what he tells you is just that way, a fact we take great pleasure in stating to our readers.

News Paper Men Busy.

Every newspaper man in the country is busy going over his subscription lists to get them in such shape as will conform to the new ruling of the Post Master General—that is to get every subscription up to within one year. This is working a hardship on the paper men, but what Uncle Sam says must be done.

Mr Rigney Injured.

While coming to his place of business in the Citizens National Bank, Wednesday morning, Mr W O Rigney slipped on the icy pavement and fell, fracturing a small bone in his left leg just below the knee. While the injury will soon heal, yet he has suffered great pain. His legion of friends trust that he will soon be able to return to his post of duty.

Much Sickness.

Doctors say there was never before so much sickness in the community. The trouble is mostly deep colds, with a few cases of pneumonia. They say the people should be very careful and not expose themselves, as this is the most dangerous season of the year. Grippe is spoken of lightly by some people, but it must be watched, like a cat watching a rat hole, to prevent going into pneumonia. The latter disease is one of the most treacherous the doctors have to treat. As we heard one say, "I would rather treat smallpox or any other disease than one case of pneumonia."

Had Big Time.

At conclusion of the work at the Odd Fellows' lodge Monday night, the members enjoyed a "fruit festival," as one brother called it. Several kinds of fruit was passed and enjoyed greatly. The lodge has hit upon the very enjoyable practice of something on this order every few meetings, and it serves to increase the attendance very materially. By the way, the lodge was never in a more flourishing condition and in better shape for putting on the degrees.

War On The Dogs.

A war is being waged on the many worthless dogs in the community, and many have been killed. It is all right and proper to kill off the worthless ones but care should be taken not to molest the good, honest canine. Human love can be tired out, can be starved or killed by abuse. But notice the dog. Let him love and be devoted to a master, and neither hunger nor thirst, nor cold nor neglect, nor abuse on the part of his master alienates him. He is faithful, constant, devoted still. And these animals love enough to sacrifice their lives for those they love, and sometimes die of grief on the graves of their human masters. Kill the worthless canines, but spare the good ones.

A Good Bill.

Senator R L Hubble has introduced a bill in the Legislature requiring a reduction of rates on sleeping cars. This is a good move and the bill ought to pass.

Last Statements.

This week, The Record sends out its last statements before the new United States law goes into effect. Remember, it is your Uncle Sam at the back of this and not the publishers. Better pony up and save trouble.

The Best of Literature.

I am prepared to order any magazine or other publication, on the very shortest notice, and can save you both time and money on same. Call at store of Joseph Mercantile Co. Will appreciate your orders. Mrs Dollie Brown.

Y. M. C. A.

The biennial convention of the Young Men's Christian Associations of Kentucky will be held at Winchester, February 20-23. It is expected that there will be present nearly five hundred men, representing the city railroad, student, and county Associations of the state.

Plenty of Coal.

Too much praise cannot be given the local coal dealers for the splendid and prompt manner in which they have kept the people in coal this winter. Almost every season there has been a famine, which caused much inconvenience and trouble, but the present dealers have been Johnnie-on-the-spot, for which they are entitled to a vote of thanks for their enterprise.

Making Good Records.

The people of Garrard have every reason to be proud of the men representing them in the Legislature—Senator R L Hubble and Representative W C Wynn. They are constantly at their posts of duty and are doing all in their power to secure good legislation and prevent that which is of no benefit or of detriment to the state. Two better men could not have been found.

Order of Eastern Star.

A local organization of the order of Eastern Star has been organized, and steps will be taken in a few days to get the lodge in working order. This is a branch of Masonry for the wives, daughters and sisters of the Master Masons, and the work is exceptionally pretty and the order of much benefit to those belonging thereto. The order will meet in the handsome new quarters of the local Masonic lodge.

The Fishing Club.

The Lake Placid Fishing Club met and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: R E McRoberts, president, Jno M Farra, vice president, F P Frisbie, sec. treas. The following board of directors were chosen: J A Beazley, Geo Smith, Jr. and Jno E Stormes. It was decided to have the open season in Spring to extend from April 20 to May 1st, and the Fall season from Sep 1 to Nov 1. The lake is well stock with fish, and if properly protected will furnish fine sport.

New Business Firm.

Mr F P Frisbie has formed a partnership with Mr W P Hedrick, of Raleigh N. C., and the firm will open a complete stock of jewelry and optical goods at Mr Frisbie's drug store, on North side of Public Square. Mr Hedrick is a graduate optician and has had twenty-five years experience in the business. Mr Frisbie has been looking for an expert in this line for some time, and is satisfied he has secured a partner who will give perfect satisfaction to every customer. Both members of the firm are in Cincinnati this week purchasing a stock of optical goods and jewelry, and hope to have same ready by Saturday. The new jewelry firm will run under the name of Hedrick & Frisbie.

The Best Fair Yet.

As stated in last issue of The Record the Garrard County Fair Association has selected the dates, July 29, 30 and 31, for this year's exhibition. At meeting of the stockholders, the same directors and the same officers were chosen, with the exception of President, Mr John M Farra being chosen for the position. The officers are at work now and the hustling secretary, Mr R L Elkin, tells us he is meeting with the greatest encouragement, notwithstanding the early start. The Lancaster fair is always the source of great pleasure to the people in this section and those ex residents who make it the occasion of returning to the old home for a good time and a square meal of "mother's cooking."

Fire Company Organized.

A meeting of the young men was held at the police court room at which a fire company was organized, certain members assigned certain duties by which much more effective work can be done. While these young men will take complete charge at a fire, yet they wish to impress upon the public the importance of helping pull the hose wagon to the scene of action. This wagon is very heavy, and all hands should assist in pulling. At the meeting, Henry Simpson was chosen chief, W O Dunlap, assistant chief. The following members were assigned to different duties: Lewis Herndon, F. B. Marksbury, Jas Pierce, Will Doty, G. B. Swinebroad, J. L. Gill, and Robt. Powell. All are good hands at fighting fire, and some splendid work is expected.

Just Now MAYBE AN EXTRA PAIR OF TROUSERS

of the right kind would help things along; it happens so often that the trousers, getting the hardest wear, give out before the coat and vest.

A good pair of trousers now will give you a new suit effect; and you can get it for very little money. These Hart, Schaffner & Marx trousers are especially good; they make up short lengths of suit fabrics,—not enough for a suit—into extra trousers. Very fine goods; all-wool; made in the perfect Hart, Schaffner & Marx way.

We can show you something that will go well with your coat and vest. Trousers $5, $6, $8.

The above is a fair likeness of Mr A B Brown, Sr., and his estimable wife. This couple is one of the best-known and most highly respected in the county. On Jan. 11th they quietly celebrated the 53rd anniversary of their marriage. Mrs Brown is probably the only woman in Kentucky who has celebrated her golden wedding of the second marriage. To the first union there were three girls born, one of whom is now living—Miss Martha A

Stephens, connected with the School for the Deaf, at Danville. To the second union there were six children, four of whom are living—Geo F Brown, of this county, Mrs H D Arnold, of Texas, Mrs Rosa Crow, and Miss Allie B Brown, of Louisville. Mr and Mrs Brown are a remarkably well-preserved couple for their years. Mrs Brown has lived in the same house and slept in the same room for sixty-two years—having lived in same house during both marriages.

The bride's going-away suit was of elegant brown broadcloth. After a trip to St Louis the couple returned to their pretty home in Paragould where they will reside. The Democrat says: "The bride is a cultured and refined lady who has made many true friends during her six years residence in this city. The groom is one of the most prominent men of Paragould, being the proprietor of one of the largest business houses in the city. He is a true Christian gentleman in every sense of the word, and justly deserves the full measures of esteem and friendship of all the business men of the town, which he enjoys."

Prof Lippard is pleased with the opening of the Lancaster Business College and the excellent quality of students entering. There are many other young people who should enter at once and prepare for good positions. Parents can do better than to give their sons and daughters a thorough business education, it helps them to larger success and is better than to give them money. Now the opportunity is at your door and saves board and travelling expenses. See Prof Lippard

Teddy Bear's New Year Resolutions.

RESOLVED—That throughout this year 1908 I will try to be good and do good; that I will try to help myself and help others; that I will stand by the old town and the home people and help to boom the burg.

RESOLVED—That from January to December, inclusive, I will quit dissipating—quit dissipating my dollars by taking them out of circulation here around home and sending them to the big cities to buy the things that I can buy and ought to buy right here in town.

RESOLVED—That I will stop smoking—stop smoking pipe dream dope suggesting big bargains to be had, unsight unseen, from the gigantic stores in the gigantic cities, and go around among the stores here at home looking for bargains that are there to be seen with the naked eye.

RESOLVED—That I will patronize, by preference, the stores that advertise in the home paper and therefore have enterprise enough to tell the people what they've got in stock.
(Signed) TEDDY BEAR.

Br'er Rabbit: "Say, Teddy, that last resolution is the goods, all right."

Dairy Pointers.

The Nebraska Experiment Station after a series of experiments with their dairy herd draws the following conclusions:

"As a rule, short lactation periods result in a high per cent. of fat, while long periods give a lower per cent. of fat."

"A large flow of milk is generally associated with a low per cent. of fat, while a small flow gives a higher test. It was found, however, that the amount of butter fat did not vary as much as the milk flow or the per cent. of fat."

"In most cases heifers with their first calf did not show as high a test as they did at a more mature age."

"The per cent. of butter fat did not seem to be changed by the food ration given."

"In order to know the value of a dairy herd and its members, it is necessary to keep a milk and butter fat record of each cow from year to year. Such a record will show great variation in the value of the animals and will serve as a guide in building up the herd."

"The cows varied from year to year in their butter fat productions. The good cows were inclined to give large yields year after year, while the poor ones were in nearly all cases low."

"It was found that, as a rule, the variation in milk flow in individual cows from year to year was due to length of lactation and rest before freshening. A long lactation period favors a larger milk production; also a long period of rest before freshening brings the same result."

This bulletin (Nebraska Bulletin No. 101) takes up also the cost of butter fat production, the grains fed being those available in Nebraska, figuring the market prices of both feeds and butter. We publish the conclusions as follows:

"The amount of milk and butter fat produced depends upon the dairy capacity of the animal and the amount and quality of the ration used."

"Cows vary in their cost of keep, also in their ability to use economically the food consumed."

"Cows of a decided dairy type will return the greatest profit when fed to their full capacity."

"The average cost of feeding a dairy cow, as shown by these records, is about $30 per year, and the total value of butter fat is about $70, leaving an average of about $40 for labor and feed in addition to the value of the skim-milk and the value of the calf."

"It is fair to state that the calf, skim-milk and manure will balance the labor required to care for the cow and the net earnings per cow would therefore be $40 per year."

Many Sleepless Nights, Owing to a Persistent Cough. Relief Found at Last.

"For several winters past my wife has been troubled with a most persistent and disagreeable cough, which invariably extended over a period of several weeks and caused her many sleepless nights," writes Will J. Hayner, editor of the Burley, Colo., Bulletin. "Various remedies were tried each year, with no beneficial results. In November last the cough again put in an appearance and my wife, acting on the suggestion of a friend, purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The result was indeed marvelous. After three doses the cough entirely disappeared and has not manifested itself since." This remedy is for sale by F. P. Frisbie. 1m

A correspondent asks if willow makes good fence posts. They are better than nothing, but they rot quickly and are not worth fooling with, if anything else can be found.

Scolding and kicking the cows that have sore teats is a poor way to mend the difficulty. Vaseline is worth ten times as much. Rub it on the cracked places, night and morning, after milking.

Don't forget that the hens will appreciate something green once in a while during the winter, while they are housed. A head of cabbage hung up where they can get at it will be nice, and finely cut clover mixed with a marsh occasionally will help fetch eggs.

Believe in signs? Well, when ever you see a bunch of cows huddled together in corner of the barnyard their backs humped up like jack rabbits, and each fighting for a place in the patch of sun light, while chewing the buttends of corn stalks, it is a sure sign that dairy cow on that farm costs more than it comes to.

The growing of no tobacco this year which has already been determined upon by the Equity Society and the high price of $7 per one hundred and twelve pounds, which is the highest in twenty years, a decided increase in the average of hemp for the coming season is assured. The purchase of hemp seed has hardly begun, though considerable inquiry upon the part of farmers as to the probable price which will be asked has been made.—Paris News.

There is no such thing as poultry seasons. Every day in the year poultry raising should be conducted as a business. If there are no eggs to sell, there will be fowls. If no young broilers, there may be fat and lazy hens. Have something to sell the year around. It is an old but true saying that the cow and the hens can keep a farmer going when nothing else is busy on the farm. Poultry and eggs are cash at all seasons, and the only reason why winter is selected as the best time for giving more attention to fowls is because other work on the farm is at a standstill.

Senator J. W. Newman, of Woodford county has introduced in the Senate a bill to regulate the breeding of live stock. The bill provides that all breeders of Kentucky live stock shall submit pedigrees of their stock to the Commissioner of Agriculture, who shall issue licenses. The bills circulated to advertise breeding stock shall be printed as follows: Thoroughbred stock of standard pedigrees, on white cards; mixed breeding on yellow cards, and scrub stock on red cards. Violations are punishable by fine and revocation of license. The purpose of the bill is to promote the breeding industry and prevent fake pedigrees from being circulated. Senator Newman believes the passage of his bill results in great good to the breeding industry.

Layton.
In memory of John W. Layton who was called to his reward Jan 16th 1908. Death was due to a stroke of paralysis which he suffered last August. His illness did not become critical however until two weeks ago. He was born in Garrard county, Dec 31st 1825. Being endowed with an unusual strong mind, and with lofty aspirations to do something for his country, he served in the English army for a number of years, after being most honorably discharged from his majesty's service he returned to the United States and joined the Fourteenth regulars, which he served there years. After again being discharged with honors, he returned once more to his native state, and was shortly afterwards united in marriage to Sarah E. Logan, whom with three daughters and one son are left to mourn a true husband and devoted father. He was a consistent member of the First Baptist church in Decatur, having first united with the Baptist church at Freedom, Garrard county, in 1875.

He with his family came to this state from Kentucky in 1884, and has since resided in Decatur. Yet his loyalty to his old home and his many friends there caused him to make a great many visits to the scenes of his childhood. The receptions he met with on every occasion bespoke for him the high esteem in which he was held. None knew him but to love him. With always a ready expression of counsel or sympathy for old and young. He will be greatly missed by all. Although having lived a retired life for several years, yet his influence was felt, and his departure causes a void that can never be filled. Funeral services were conducted at the family residence, 1162 W. Decatur St. by the Rev S. H. Bowyer. Who paid a glowing tribute to his life. There was a profusion of beautiful flowers in charge of Hattie Jacobs, Etta Bixler, Pearl and Jennie Hardin. He was laid to rest at Greenwood cemetery to await the resurrection morn, when the Righteous Judge shall call forth his spirit to its awaiting glory.

Earth has lost its look of gladness, Heaven seems to us more bright, Since the spirit of our loved one, Took its happy homeward flight. And we long to cross the river, Long to rest upon that shore, There to see and know and love him, With the Savior ever more. A Friend.

OSTEOPATHY

Dr. Rosebury, the well known and popular young Osteopath, who, for some months has been located in our city, has made arrangements with us for the publication of a series of interesting articles on the subject of his profession, the first of which appears below.

To those who are considering osteopathy as a means to get well, instead of consulting your medical doctor who knows no more about the science than yourself as to whether it would be advisable to employ an Osteopath, how would it do to reverse the matter and ask the Osteopath whether it is necessary in your case to use drugs?

That the opinion of any one upon a subject of which he knows nothing, is valueless, is a fact too well known to admit of an argument, but despite this fact many of us do not hesitate to sit in judgement on subject of which we know little or nothing, and without investigation, class all other systems as inferior to our own.

Particularly is this true in regard to Osteopathy, the science of which the average M. D. or so called "regular," knows practically nothing beyond its name, but of which he speaks knowingly, referring to it as massage or rubbing; but interrogate him and you will find that his contempt for the system is in direct proportion to his lack of knowledge of the subject.

Being a graduate Osteopath and having been associated with Osteopathic colleges during several years and coming into personal contact with several hundred students in these colleges, as well as having studied medicine these years, and also from a personal acquaintance with a large number of medical students, I believe myself qualified to state that the Osteopathic students as a class, are the equals in point of general intelligence and professional attainments to any class of Medical Students they graduate with as high standing as is required by any medical school. Their course of study and requirements are far in advance of that which prevailed in the medical colleges when the majority of the M. D.'s, or so called "regulars," now practicing, received their education.

I do not hesitate to recommend Osteopathy to all physicians, who are willing to go beyond the narrow limits of their own school, as a science possessing new and valuable method of diagnosis and therapeutics. When I do commend Osteopathy as such, I do so advisedly being somewhat familiar with the teachings of the various schools, having associated with their physicians and attended their clinics, and in no case have I found Osteopathic principle taught or practiced.

As the Osteopaths have no use for drugs they have no use for the knowledge of drugs found in the study of materia medica, therefore do not study it, but they devote more time to anatomy than medical students, and also devote much time to the study of Osteopathic principles and practice, which is applied anatomy and physiology and as a result go out from college with a much more practical armamentarium, with which to combat disease than their brother medic who is crammed full of materia medica, but has no idea which drug to give in a certain disease.

Like all men of his class, the prejudice of a doctor who has no use for the law to compel people to patronize him, in other words, he wants to do as our mothers used to do with the children when they would not take the nasty medicine, hold their nose until the mouth opened for breath, then pour it down. If people will not take his medicine the doctor wants the officers of the law to hold their noses and permit him to pour it down their throats. This, I believe, is a fair interpretation of the wishes of those in charge recent medical legislation. They are endeavoring to compel people to employ a certain kind of treatment when sick. There is just as much reason and necessity for a law compelling everyone to use a certain kind of flour or to drink a certain brand of coffee as there is for a law compelling everyone to employ certain doctors when they are sick.

Medicine is not such an exact science that any doctor can truthfully say, "if I were to take typhoid fever I would not take a single dose of medicine. To give drugs to a well man is very, very wrong, but to give drugs to a sick man is nothing short of a crime. Anatomy is a real science; medicine is not, but is largely theoretical and empiric."

How does that sound to you? This is the sentiment of the majority of the leading, and most eminent physicians of the country. I can give you hundreds of such quotations. Here's another one, Dr. Osler M. D. says "one of the striking characteristics of the modern treatment of diseases is the return to what used to be called natural method, diet, exercise, bathing and massage."

Another one, Hippocrates, the "Father of Medicine," says, "No inducement will ever lead me to administer poison nor will I ever be the author of such a vice."

Dr. J. M. Smith, M. D. of the New York College of Physicians and Surgeons, says, Digitalis has hurried thousands to the grave. All medicines which enter the circulation poison the blood in the same manner, as do the poisons of the profession. Dr. H. S. Cox M. D. of same college, says "Mercury is a sheet anchor in fevers, but it is an anchor which moves your patient to the grave."

Augustus Cullen, M. D. in Reviews of Reviews, says "The common sense practitioner knows by experience that the constant, frequent prescribing of innumerable drugs only ends in detriment of his patient."

Dr. Chapman, M. D. professor in Medical School of Philadelphia, says, "Taking drugs habitually conduces to destroy the stomach. Every ache or discomfort, real or imaginary, must be relieved by a recurrence to some supposed remedy, till finally the powers of the stomach are worn out, and derangements, functional or structural take place." He goes on and says, "How can the profession escape the imputation of lending its contribution to this mischief, when called to a case of such obscurity that no distinct cure can be formed of it, how often do we go on groping in the dark, pouring down drugs empirically, till the stomach is worn out, and derangements are added to the pre-existing affliction by which the case is made of greater complexity and enhanced difficulty of cure."

Further he says, "The preponderant estimate of the profession even among the most enlightened people, leads to the delusive supposition that the materia medica has a remedy for every disease, and that the want of success in given circumstances, is owing to the poverty of resource of the practitioner in attendance. Confidence to soon withdrawn should he intermit his exertions, and nervously too often multiplies his administrations to avoid a dismissal, or the bringing in of some other doctor, who, is expected, will bring forth a fresh supply of Physic to add fuel to the flames." "The conclusion reached, the new doctor brings forth his new prescriptions of more drugs. With the new army of deadly weapons, he enters the field; an exasperation of the case follows, the satisfied, however, further trials of new physicians are still made, and these are a repetition of the same proceeding; the catastrophe is complete, for the patient dies."

Dr. Osler M. D. says, During the last quarter of a century sensible doctors have reached the conclusion typhoid fever is not a disease to be treated with medicine, but in a large proportion of cases, diet, nursing and bathing meet the indication.

I do not desire to attempt to prove correctness of our own system by proving the falsity and futility of the systems of medicine, but I do desire to prove that nothing we could say could compare in severity to what eminent medical practitioners have said concerning their own system.

In view of the above quotation from medical sources, however, I believe that Osteopathy will be doing mankind a service if it only leads the people out from its thralldom to drugs and away from its superstitious reverence for the various concoctions and nostrum which have supposedly been possessed of curative virtues, but in addition to this it affords a substitute of real merit in relieving suffering humanity of its many ills or many of them, it will be doing a double service. Osteopathy saves from drugs and in most cases cures the disease.

While it is true that many still have a superstitious feeling of awe for the materia medica and its specific remedy (if known) for every ill, yet the number of specifics is admittedly small, the already large number of ailments in which the medical text book remarks. Drugs in the treatment of this disease are of no avail, it is on the increase. On the part of the people, also there is a superstitious feeling for the omnipotent remedies of the pharmacopoeia and the tendency toward nostrum drug methods of treatment is ever more and more marked.

An Osteopath can go into a community and, in spite of the most bitter professional jealousy and the meanest kind of opposition, build up a business on the results of his treatment. He does not ask the assistance of the law to compel people to patronize him. Why should his brother of the Medical fraternity seek or need this assistance?

Strengthen these nerves, build them up with Dr. Shoop's Restorative—tablets or liquid—and see how quickly help will come. Free sample test sent on request by Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. A weak Stomach, means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. It's a pity that sick ones continue to drug the Stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves, not the organs themselves, need this help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative has, and is promptly helping so many sick ones. It goes direct to the cause of these diseases. Test this vital truth, and see. R. E. McRoberts.

Years Of Suffering Then Robust Health.

Great Remedy Cured Skin Disease of Long Standing.

Mr. J. Weber of 1065 Vine Street, San Jose, Cal., writes an interesting story of terrible skin suffering which ended in robust health when he found a remedy which cured him like magic. Here is Mr. Weber's own story:

"In July, 1900, my face began to be affected with a terrible skin disease. I went to a doctor, and he told me that I had been poisoned and he wanted to operate on me, I refused to let him do so and after a few months my face was an awful sight. You could see that it was diseased to the bone. Some people claimed that I had cancer. Great boils would appear, increasing in size and pain, and I began to feel like a doctor again but no one could help me; large pimples and boils would continue to come. At that time I had as many as ten on my face. I was such a terrible sight that my friends could not bear to see me. I doctored for five years until my funds gave out and I had to stop. During this time I tried over 300 remedies.

"One day I happened to hear of D. D. D. Prescription and learned that it had cured several bad cases of Eczema. I purchased a bottle and then I got a second bottle. The use of five bottles cured me. It has been eight months now and the disease has returned. My friends ask what it was that cured me of the awful skin trouble and I answer that it was D. D. D. which healed me."

We know that every word of the above letter is absolutely true. We keep D. D. D. Prescription, the great remedy for eczema, psoriasis, salt rheum, dandruff, etc., because all the cures it has made appear to be lasting. Come in and talk to us about this remedy. R. E. McRoberts Lancaster.

This face cleared off quick by "D. D. D."

Mrs. J. M. Daniels, of Winchester, Ky., says: "For fifteen years I had sores on my face. They got worse all the time, until I was ashamed to go out on the street. When I did had to wear a veil. My face itched and burned so I thought I would go crazy."

"I had tried every remedy I could get hold of. I thought I never could get rid of it. One day a friend recommended your remedy. I had tried so many I did not care but thought one more would not make very much difference. The itching and burning stopped, red spots, and soon my face began to clear. It was slow work and I almost gave up, but I persisted, and now my face is all clear. Like it was before I got the disease. I had to use a great many bottles but having my skin cured is worth ten times as much as I spent. I thank you and hope you all kinds of success."

We hereby certify that full particulars shown us regarding this case conclusively prove that every taint of this terrible disease was permanently cleared away by the wonderful D. D. D. Prescription.

SOMETHING SHOULD BE DONE

What is Causing the Increase of Catarrh in This Section?

In spite of the best efforts of medical men, catarrhal troubles are increasing not only in this section, but all over the country.

Catarrh is a germ disease, and to cure it germ life in the breathing organs should be destroyed, and to do this no other treatment has such positive and beneficial action as Hyonol.

When the mucous membrane is irritated and raw and the tissues weakened, there is an ideal lodging place for catarrhal germs. Breathe Hyonol, and see how quickly it soothes the membrane, vitalizes the tissues and destroys all the disease germs, rendering catarrh no longer possible.

There is no dangerous stomach drug when Hyonol is used; no tablets or liquid mixtures destroying digestion.

Breathed through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every Hyonol outfit, the healing balsam penetrates the most remote air cells of the throat, nose and lungs, destroying the catarrhal germs so that quick recovery follows.

Our leading druggists agree to refund the money to any purchaser of Hyonol who does not find that it does all that is claimed for it. The complete outfit costs but $1.00. Sold and guaranteed by For sale by R. E. McRoberts.]

Heart strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Fatigued, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden little nerve that really is all at fault. WATCH YOUR TONGUE

If Furred and Coated, it is a Warning of Trouble to Come.

When it is the morning after the night before, you do not have to look at your tongue to know that the stomach is upset, the head is aching with a dull rhythm, and that all the world looks black and dreary.

If you have been lobster Newburgh, Welsh rabbit or some other tasty dish that looked much better at night than the morning after. There is no need to look at the tongue thermometer then for symptoms of trouble. You naturally go to your box of Mi-na stomach tablets, and with one of the little relievers bring joy and gladness to the physical system. The real time to watch the tongue is all of the time. If it is coated with a white fur, or possibly with dark trimmings, even though the stomach does not tell you by the acute pains of indigestion that it needs help, yet the coating shows that you are getting into a bad way and that there is need of Mi-na.

Mi-na is so positive, so sure, so reliable in its curative action upon the stomach that an absolute guarantee is given with every 50-cent box to refund the money unless the remedy gives absolute and complete satisfaction. Sold and guaranteed by

R. E. McRoberts.
